

Athletic Recruiting 101

Being recruited can be a daunting process from getting noticed to understanding recruitment procedures. This workshop will provide parents, students, coaches and school administrators with important information on how college recruiting works for all students and help families navigate the complex recruiting process to ensure a rewarding experience.

With over thirty years working with High School and College Coaches, John Gallo will shed light on the very complex world of college recruiting. Topics include:

- Overview of the college divisions
- Important recruiting timelines,
- Recruiting myths
- Eligibility requirements
- Role of the coach, player, and parent

If your son or daughter has aspirations to play at the collegiate level, this is an event that can't be missed!
